137. Flight Avionics Ltd - Stealth series Simulators

We have been informed, by NAFLIC members Leisure Technical Consultants Ltd, that Flight Avionics Ltd of Scarborough have issued some technical guidance regarding inspection of their Stealth series simulators. This is the 25 seater version of the company's product range.

They have experienced some cracking at a particular region of the "A" frame assembly and advise that in-service checks are necessary. NDT procedures may be required to supplement those carried out at annual Thorough Examination.

Interested parties should contact the manufacturer directly.
